CASTLECOVE

Castlecove Village is a unique and traditional rural village full of activities and events such as St. Crohans Festival each July. It is home to fine sandy beaches and the coastline has created natural rock pools with exquisite sandy coves dotted underneath the cliffs. Its pristine and ecological harmony won Castlecove an award at the World Environmental Oscars. The imposing ruins of Staigue Fort are close by and are probably the finest example of a stone fort in Ireland about 2,500 years old.

CAHERDANIEL - Home of Our Liberator

Caherdaniel parish begins in the wonderful valley of Glenmore with its beautiful lakes and rivers and is world famous for fishing. Caherdaniel Village, on the old butter road, with its stone fort nearby is an old village right in the heart of the Kerry Way, home of ancient poets and writers, now a mix of old and new. Full of character and atmosphere, this pretty village stands on the shore of Derrynane Bay. Home to the Great 'Liberator' Daniel O'Connell, Derrynane House & National Park is a visit not to be missed.

DERRYNANE

Derrynane is one of the most alluring locations in Ireland. The terrain varies from rugged shore lines to gently rolling mountains. The sheltered harbour of Derrynane was once the haunt of pirates and buccaneers and the area still offers adventure with the opportunity to enjoy some of the most beautiful scenery and walks imaginable. The Derrynane National Park covers an area of 320 acres and includes a Nature Trail, over 1.5km of shoreline and a glorious beaches with lots of adventures and activities.
